

Nan C. Bouché, CSJA

I grew up in Waterbury, CT. I am a wife, mother of four adult children, and the proud grandmother of three young granddaughters (so far!). I have the joy of being a year round Cape Cod resident. You might be surprised to learn that two summers ago, I spent a week white water rafting through the Grand Canyon. I came to the Associates after witnessing the lives and ministry of CSJs whom I met during my studies for ministry and as I ministered to and alongside some of the sisters. I have been an Associate for just over a year. My favorite memory of my association with the sisters is witnessing, in concrete situations, their love of the dear neighbor without distinction. I seek to live out the CSJ charism in my family life, and in my ministry as a spiritual director and hospital chaplain. I am passionate about my family, accompanying others on their spiritual journeys, enjoying nature, and traveling. I feel so very blessed to have been led to the Sisters of St. Joseph of Boston!
